Complete With Confidence

At Aaron & Partners, our experienced residential conveyancing team understands that no two transactions are the same.

We'll take a proactive approach to resolving the challenges you face, and our conveyancing service is fully accredited by the Law Society's Conveyancing Quality Scheme - so you can be certain of receiving the highest standard of legal advice at all times.

Having the support of specialist property lawyers greatly increases your chances of success with any property transaction.

So no matter how complex your circumstances, or how high the value of the transaction, you can count on Aaron & Partners' property experts to give you clear, effective guidance to conclude any deals as quickly and efficiently as possible.

That means your chances of unexpected difficulties are reduced, and the likelihood of securing a favourable outcome is greatly increased.

Aaron & Partners

Areas Of Practice

Sales, Purchases, And Remortgages

Buying, selling or remortgaging residential property inevitably involves tackling a number of often complex legal issues. Our guidance smooths the process, often pre-empting potential pitfalls altogether.

Plot Sales

As developments have become more intricate and tightly plotted, the potential legal ramifications of plot sales have increased. There are many issues with which to grapple, especially with schemes involving apartments – but Aaron & Partners are highly experienced at managing all legal aspects of plot sales.

Investment

Building a profitable property portfolio can be hugely rewarding, but it is also incredibly challenging: some legal dangers can, if unattended to, leave investors facing criminal liability. Our bespoke legal services can help you anticipate potential difficulties and navigate legal complexities, enabling you to maximise your return on investment.

Auctions

Buying or selling a property at an auction is a specialist area with high potential risk.

In order to avoid costly mistakes, it is vital to engage the support of solicitors highly experienced in property auctions and the accompanying legal packs.
